Making Chores Stick at 5

Short, the same every day, and done with you first.

- [ ] Start with 3 to 5 chores. Two in the morning, two after dinner works well for most 5 year olds.
- [ ] Teach one chore at a time: do it for them, do it together, watch them do it, then let them do it alone.
- [ ] Expect 5 year old work. A lumpy bed is a made bed. Praise the effort, not the result.
- [ ] Tie chores to a time they already have, like bed right after getting dressed and plate right after dinner.
- [ ] Use the chart for the reminding. Point to the next picture instead of repeating yourself.
- [ ] Everyday family chores stay unpaid. Save rewards for a full week, and keep them small, like a park trip or choosing dinner.
